The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamauchi et al., US 5,788,786, taken with Thurn et al., US 3,873,489.

Yamauchi teaches preparing pneumatic tires from closed cell rubber compositions comprising the present diene rubbers, silica, carbon black and amounts thereof [Abstract; column 2, lines 55-57; column 3, line 47- column 5, line 25; column 6, line 55 - column 7, line 11]. Silane coupling agents within present Formula (1), in equivalent amounts to the instant coupling agents, are disclosed [column 5, line 26 - column 6, line 4]. Thurn teaches rubber compositions useful for preparing tires [column 8, lines 4-9] comprising the claimed rubbers [column 7, lines 10-29], silica [column 4, line 46 - column 5, line 44] and carbon black [column 1, lines 18-27; claim 28]. The present silane coupling agents and amounts thereof wherein present component "y" is 3 or 4 (i.e. component "n" of the reference) are disclosed, claimed and preferred [column 2, line 26 - column 3, line 40; claims 1 and 27; column 2, line 67]. The disclosed silanes are advantageous in their use and for affording outstanding properties [column 2, lines 26-42]. Yamauchi differs from the claimed invention by preferring tetrasulfide silane coupling agents and the like, i.e. compounds wherein component "y" of present Formula (1) is 4 [column 5, lines 52-55]. It would have been obvious to prepare the compositions of Yamauchi with silane coupling agents containing a preponderance of trisulfide groups in the expectation of realizing enhancements in processing and properties because Thurn teaches the embodiment for the same class of compositions disclosed by Yamauchi.
